General Information

1. To print use the print button on the tool bar at the top of the screen. The cost is $.25 per page and the printed material can be collected at the Court Clerk's window. There is a 50 page limit. You will NOT receive a notification when the print job has completed. You can also download and email yourself documents for free.
2. The public access terminal does not have internet access or access to other software. Update: There is a web browser.
3. Users may not link other computer devices to the public access terminal or to the NH Judicial Branch network.
4. The Public Access page will 'time out' after approximately 5 minutes.
5. There is a limit of 200 cases that will be listed on any search results page. When this happens you may want to refine your search to more specific criteria, using the case status and date filed fields for example.
6. No confidential cases are available through the public access terminal.
7. 'Wildcard search' is the process of searching by using a partial name or number and an asterisk (*) which is the 'wild card'.

Wildcard Names. When a full name is entered in the name fields, the system tries to match that name exactly as entered. Wildcards allow the system to find names that are similar or close to the search criteria entered and may result in more possible matches. Example:

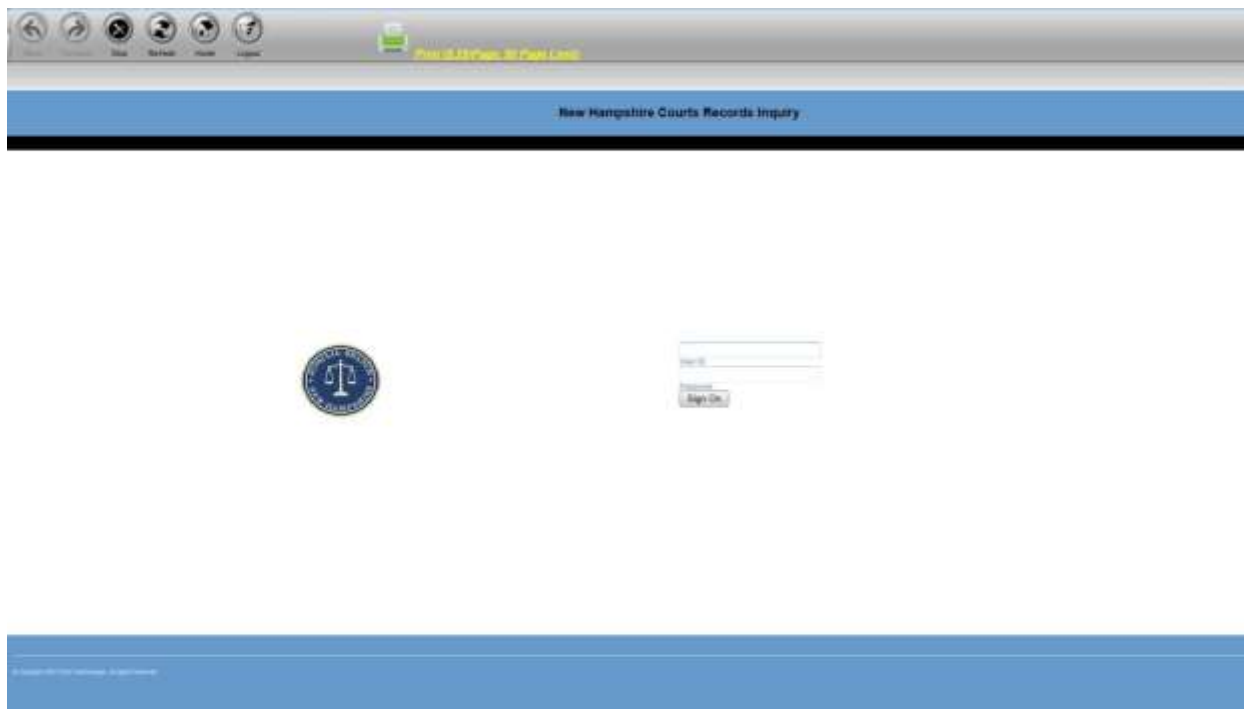

Monica Fryeberg may be entered as Moni* Frye* or variations in the appropriate search fields.

Wildcard Numbers. Using a wildcard search may be very useful when searching for a group of similar cases. Some examples of using wildcard number searches are: when looking for a block of cases filed between certain dates. Example:

Searching for small claims cases filed in the 6th Circuit District Division at Concord in 2008, enter 429-2008-SC*.

8. Suggestions for better search results
 - Do not use middle initials, middle names or suffixes such as 'Jr.'
 - Try wildcard variations as described above.
 - Narrow search results by using the case status and date filed options.
9. Logging into system.
 - RECORDS INQUIRY SYSTEM. The home page will appear as soon as the base unit is turned on.
 - TO BEGIN SEARCHES. See page 4 for information about logging into the inquiry system to begin searches.
